In the case of students in fields particularly important in the fulfillment of the five-year plan, the base is 200 DM. State Secretary for Trade Training in agreement with the State Planning Commission will issue a list of the special fields to be considered here.

2. Duration of Scholarship Awards

- a. Payment begins after authorization for trade-school instructor training with the beginning of the school year.
- b. Additional payments by decision of the decent collective or on the basis of test notations.
- c. When requirements for additional payments are no longer fulfilled, withdrawal of payments is to be recommended by the Scholarship Commission.
- d. Falsification of information means immediate revocation of scholarship. This action is independent of any process instituted to exclude the person from training as a trade-school instructor.
- e. Upon voluntary or involuntary separation from the institute, scholarship payment ceases with the current month.

3. Special Considerations in Addition to the Above Described Base and Additional

1. Married scholarship recipients with spouse unable to work either for physical reasons or by virtue of the necessity for tending children, or those whose net income does not exceed 200 DM per month, receive an additional 30 DM per month in the case of joint maintenance, 70 DM per month in the case of separate maintenance.

If both husband and wife are students, they are regarded as unmarried for purposes of these considerations.

2. Physical disability is conceded if proven within the meaning of Social Security Regulations by official physician's affidavit.

3. Allowances for child dependents: 40 DM per month for first child; 30 DM per month for each additional child.

If both husband and wife are scholarship students, dependents may be claimed only once.

4. Child dependency payments will be made for illegitimate children upon proof of maintenance, payable directly to the eligible payee.

5. Students at the Berlin Institute will receive, in addition to base or base plus effort bonus, a local bonus of 20 DM per month.

4. Sickness and Leave

Scholarship students furloughed on account of sickness will be continued on scholarship status for the period of sickness up to a limit of 13 weeks, beyond which the student will be provided for under the applicable social security regulations.
